An introduction to The Boxall Profile

Suitable for: All staff that work with children, young people

The Boxall Profile provides a framework for the precise assessment of children who have social, emotional and behavioural difficulties (SEBD), social, emotional and mental Health issues (SEMH) and are failing at school. It helps teachers to plan focused intervention for those children whose behaviour seems to make no sense. The profile provides the teacher with insights and suggests points of entry into the child's world — it makes people think about what lies behind the behaviour.

The Boxall Profile is, from a practical point of view, very easy to use. The two-part check list, which is completed by staff who know the child best in a classroom situation, is quick — and, very importantly, it is constructive.

In this experiential afternoon course Nicki will cover:

History, theory and uses of the Boxall profile, each delegate will complete a profile for a pupil known to them, Nicki will then guide them how to use these results to build strategies for individual pupils.

The Boxall profile assessment tool is recognised by Ofsted to assess developmental progress for all pupils including those whose academic progress is lower than expected.
